ANNUAL MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | For the Year Ended March 31, 2023

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

June 5, 2023

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments that have affected the ETF's performance and outlook in the year ended March 31, 2023 (the "period"). If the ETF was established during the period, "period" represents the period since inception.

In this report, "Mackenzie" and "the Manager" refer to Mackenzie Financial Corporation, the manager of the ETF. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the ETF as calculated for subscription and redemption purposes, on which the discussion of ETF performance is based.

Please read A Note on Forward-Looking Statements on the first page of this document.

Investment Objective and Strategies

The ETF seeks a steady flow of income with potential for long-term capital growth by investing primarily in higher-yielding fixed income securities and instruments of issuers of any size anywhere in the world.

Risk

The risks of the ETF remain as discussed in the ETF's Prospectus.

The ETF is suitable for medium-term investors looking for a global fixed income fund to hold as part of their portfolio, who can handle the volatility of bond markets and who have a low to medium tolerance for risk.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

During the period, the ETF returned -2.5% (after deducting fees and expenses). This compares with a return of -4.2% for a blended index composed of a 25% weighting in the ETF's broad-based index, the ICE BofA Global Broad Market (Hedged) Index (returned -5.4%), and a 75% weighting in the ICE BofA Global High Yield (Hedged) Index (returned -3.8%). All index returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in the index returns.

In response to persistently high inflation, the U.S. Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank raised their policy rates significantly throughout the period. As a result, global fixed income yields rose sharply. Volatility in fixed income markets was heightened by the magnitude of central bank policy actions and by geopolitical tensions. Concerns that higher interest rates could cause a recession were reflected in rising yields for high-yield bonds, with spreads (the difference in yield between high-yield and investment grade bonds) near the long-term average.

The ETF outperformed the broad-based index, with its shorter duration (lower sensitivity to interest rates) and security selection in government bonds contributing to performance. Overweight exposure to corporate bonds detracted from performance relative to the broad-based index. Given the ETF's mandate, the return of the blended index is a more meaningful comparison.

The ETF outperformed the blended index, with underweight exposure to foreign government bonds contributing to performance. Security selection among corporate bonds in the real estate sector also contributed to performance, as did the ETF's cash position as markets declined. Conversely, security selection in corporate bonds in the financial sector and overweight exposure to corporate bonds in the communication sector detracted from performance.

Over the period, the portfolio management team increased the ETF's exposure to higher-quality corporate bonds, including some investment grade bonds, based on their favourable risk-reward characteristics.

Net Assets

The ETF's net assets decreased by 1.1% during the period to $244.9 million. This change was composed primarily of $5.0 million in net losses (including any interest and/or dividend income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, and an increase of $2.3 million due to net unitholder activity (including sales, redemptions and cash distributions).

Recent Developments

The portfolio management team expects volatility and uncertainty in fixed income markets to persist for the rest of 2023. By the end of the period, inflation in Canada and the United States was easing but remained elevated. The Bank of Canada had paused its policy rate increases and the U.S. Federal Reserve had slowed the pace of increases in its federal funds rate. The team expects central banks to continue to assess the impact of interest rates on inflation and economic growth before setting future policy. The team believes that the Federal Reserve could pause rate increases in 2023, while rate cuts are unlikely as long as the global economy is resilient and inflation remains elevated.

The team is cautious about prospects for high-yield bonds as economic uncertainty challenges credit fundamentals. The team believes issuer selection and sound credit research remain important in assessing investment opportunities and continues to find attractive risk-reward opportunities in higher-quality investments.

Effective March 31, 2023, KPMG LLP was appointed as the auditor of the ETF.

Related Party Transactions

Management Fees

The management expense ratio ("MER") for the ETF during the year ended March 31, 2023, was similar to the MER for the year ended March 31, 2022. Total expenses paid vary from period to period mainly as a result of changes in average assets in the ETF. The MERs are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report. The ETF paid management fees to the Manager at the annual rate of 0.60%.

The management fee for the ETF is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The ETF's management fees were used by the Manager to pay for the costs of managing the investment portfolio of the ETF, including providing investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions, making brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio and providing other services, and to pay for all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs as more fully described in the Prospectus) required to operate the ETF.

Other Related Party Transactions

Investment funds managed by Mackenzie and its affiliates may invest in the ETF in accordance with the investment objectives of those funds. At March 31, 2023, funds managed by Mackenzie owned 73.4% of the ETF's NAV, funds managed by Canada Life Investment Management Ltd. owned 17.3% of the ETF's NAV, and funds managed by I.G. Investment Management, Ltd. owned 4.1% of the ETF's NAV. All related party transactions are based on the current market price. As a result of these investments, the ETF may be subject to large transaction risk as discussed in the Prospectus. Mackenzie manages this risk to reduce the possibility of any adverse effects on the ETF or on its investors, through such processes as settling transactions in kind, charging creation and/or redemption fees for transactions settling in cash, and establishing appropriate order cut-off times for transactions.

During the period, the ETF received $0.01 million in income distributions from investments in other ETFs managed by Mackenzie to offset fees paid within those ETFs. There is no assurance that these distributions will continue in the future.

The Manager relied on an approval provided by the Mackenzie Funds' Independent Review Committee to appoint KPMG LLP as the auditor of the ETF, effective March 31, 2023.

Past Performance

The ETF's past performance information is presented in the following charts and table. It assumes all distributions made by the ETF in the periods presented are reinvested in additional units of the ETF. The charts and table do not take into account brokerage commissions or income taxes payable by any investor that would have reduced returns. The past performance of the ETF is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future.

If you hold this ETF outside of a registered plan, income and capital gains distributions paid to you increase your income for tax purposes whether paid to you in cash or reinvested in additional units of the ETF. The amount of reinvested taxable distributions is added to the adjusted cost base of the units that you own. This would decrease your capital gain or increase your capital loss when you later sell from the ETF, thereby ensuring that you are not taxed on this amount again. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your personal tax situation.

Year-by-Year Returns

The following bar chart presents the performance of the ETF for each of the fiscal periods shown. The chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each fiscal period, or on the ETF's inception date (April 26, 2017), as applicable, would have increased or decreased by the last day of the fiscal period presented.

The following bar chart presents the performance of the ETF's long and short portfolio positions for the period ended March 31, 2023, before deducting fees and expenses and before the effect of other assets (liabilities).

Annual Compound Returns

The following table compares the historical annual compound total returns for the ETF with the relevant index or indices shown below for each of the periods ended March 31, 2023. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in these performance figures.

All index returns are calculated in Canadian dollars on a total return basis, meaning that all dividend payments, interest income accruals and interest payments are reinvested.

- This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.
- Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, income taxes and withholding taxes, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, except as noted. If the ETF was established in the period, the MER is annualized from the date of inception to the end of the period. Where the ETF directly invests in securities of another fund (including other ETFs), the MER presented for the ETF includes the portion of MERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment. Any income distributions received from ETFs managed by the Manager, with the intention of offsetting fees paid within those ETFs but which are not considered to be duplicative fees under regulatory requirements, are treated as waived expenses for MER purposes. The Manager may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.
- The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period. Where the ETF invests in securities of another fund (including other ETFs), the TER presented for the ETF includes the portion of TERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment. The Manager may reimburse the ETF for certain brokerage commissions and other transaction costs (including those payable to the custodian or its agents). The Manager may make these reimbursements at its discretion and stop these reimbursements at any time without notice.
- The ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher the ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the ETF in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the ETF. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the ETF is less than one year old.
- Closing market price, or the midpoint of the bid and ask prices in the absence of a closing market price, on the last trading day of the period as reported on Cboe Canada.
